

SEVERSON-BLAINE CONTROVERSY HELD UP FOR PRESENT

Warfare to be Renewed August
27th With Return of Governor from Vacation

WILL HAVE ANSWER READY FOR THE GOVERNOR SAYS SEVERSON

Will Make Specific Demand for Special Session

MADISON, Wis.—(By Associated Press)—The controversy between Senator H. J. Severson and Governor Blaine, over the charge by Senator Severson that women had been assaulted by officials in locked capital offices, will be renewed August 27 when the governor returns from his vacation. The senator announced today. He declared that this delay had been requested by Governor Blaine.

Senator Severson said that he would specifically ask that a special session of the legislature be called to investigate charges that he expects to enumerate. He declared that as yet he had not considered taking his charges to a grand jury in the Dane County circuit court. They are too numerous and varied to be subjected to a court investigation, he said.

"If Governor Blaine is afraid of unwilling to investigate conditions that have grown up in state departments under his administration, he would resign," Senator Severson said. "I intend to ask that he either express himself in favor of an investigation or admit that conditions are such that he should resign as governor."

The senator said that he intends to outline some of the cases involving state officials and women that he has in mind. He said that the governor in a newspaper interview had admitted that one instance of a state official being involved with a woman in the capital had been called to his attention by a capital policeman.

"How many of these cases does the governor want before he will investigate?" Senator Severson asked. "However," he said, "I shall have an answer prepared for the governor when he gets back to his office on August 27. He has sought to evade the issue, when he should face it squarely as chief executive of the state."

Governor Blaine in his last reply to Senator Severson declared that the senator had failed to take advantage of any of his opportunities to give specific information concerning his charges. He demanded that all facts held by Senator Severson concerning any alleged assaults be furnished to the governor.

Governor Blaine insists that no charges have been preferred against any officials, and until they are so does not intend to act.

Speaker John L. Dahl of the assembly is expected to enter into the Progressive Republican controversy with a speech to be delivered at Rice Lake on August 19. He has said that he intends to talk politics and to discuss some angles of the political situation that grew out of the last legislative session.

WOODROW WILSON REGRETS INABILITY TO JOIN SERVICES

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Woodrow Wilson, in a letter to President Coolidge, made public Monday, said he would "esteem it an honor to take part in the funeral procession" for President Harding on Wednesday, but that his lameness would make it impracticable for him to attend the services in the rotunda at the capitol.

The letter was in response to one from President Coolidge inviting him to participate in the ceremonies for the dead president.

BRINGING UP FATHER

PLAN OBSERVANCE OF "BULL DAY" AT BARABOO SATURDAY

State to do Homage to Fathers of its Great Dairy Herds

BARABOO, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—"Bull Day" in reality, when Wisconsin will be given an opportunity to do homage to the fathers of its great dairy herds, the products of which have brought wealth and fame to the state, is to be celebrated here Saturday.

Attractions are being offered by the Sauk County Holstein Breeders' association, the Kiwanis club of Baraboo, and the press and bankers of the county, that will attract thousands from the surrounding country to the John M. Kelley farms, where the celebration is to be held.

Nationally known agricultural leaders are on the program for talks, entertainment is to be offered by the band, dancing girls from Chicago, singing and special cartooning, while dairy educational features and demonstrations are being offered by the college of agriculture.

The object of the affair is to show Wisconsin dairymen that their salvation lies in their own efforts toward co-operative organization, marketing and advertising, rather than in government appropriation, farm loan banks and farmer-labor parties.

Tex Rickard, famous fight promoter, is among those to be present. There will be former Governor E. F. Phillips, who is to speak; Frank T. Price, editor of the Holstein World; Russell Cobb, who spent a year in Russia investigating dairy conditions; J. M. Smith, president of the Wisconsin Bankers' association; Prof. K. I. Hatch of the college of agriculture; John M. Kelley, owner of the Kelley farms, and others of known reputation are to be on the program.

Advertising the fact that moving pictures will be taken on the occasion, the Sauk county sponsors of Bull Day say that there will be a "group of one hundred babies fed on Holstein milk." Beauty and the Bull will pose. Aristocracy in Holstein breeding will be featured. Causing Paul Heide Jaggle, John M. Kelley's new head sire, will be introduced. May Wirth, noted equestrienne, will perform during the

STATE DEFINES THE STATUS OF PUBLIC DANCES

MADISON, Wis.—With supervision of public dance halls becoming more rigid, evidence of studied attempts to make dances come under the private category are evidenced throughout the state.

There is no supervision of private dances and these functions cannot be visited by county and city dance hall inspectors.

The dividing line between public and private dances is giving the district attorneys of the state considerable worry.

At the request of A. E. Eward, district attorney of Brown county, Robert Rieser, deputy attorney general, gave out an opinion today in which he defines what constitutes a public dance.

A public dance is any dance where the public is admitted without discrimination upon payment of an admission fee and applies regardless whether the dance is given by an individual or an organization, Mr. Rieser explains.

PEORIA, Ill.—Four men, bound, gagged and knocked unconscious the express messenger of a Big Four train and robbed the safe of five sealed packages and railroad remittances destined for Indianapolis.

The driver of the car refused to give his name, he said, but the second man gave his name as F. E. Watson of Fountain City. Mr. Christie in a second call at 10:30 p. m. stated that the car had been reported found in a garage at Fountain City.

SUCCESS IN SIGHT FOR FUND DRIVE OF WISCONSIN COLLEGES

Five Million Expected to be Raised Easily Within the Five-year Period

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—The raising of the fund of $5,000,000 for the Wisconsin Colleges association will be successfully completed within the five-year period in which the money was to have been obtained, according to an announcement of officials of the organization.

The campaign to obtain money for the seven colleges interested—Beloit, Marquette, Carroll, Lawrence, Ripon, Campden, and Northland—began with a drive in November, 1919, and proved a disappointment because only a little less than $1,000,000 was pledged of the $5,000,000 needed.

Since then, however, some effective work has been done by the individual colleges in the movement and in the three and one-half years since the drive another $3,500,000 in additional pledges was obtained. Before the five-year period is up enough additional pledges will be in to complete the full amount.

Since the campaign began the colleges have had material assistance through the fund. It has been possible to increase the salary budgets of the colleges and since 1919, $260,000 additional was added. The facilities had to be enlarged on account of the increased attendance, which is now more than 7,000.

A Newspaper Feat

A NEWSPAPER achievement of extraordinary proportions has just been completed by the Ottumwa, Iowa, Courier in the publication of a Diamond Jubilee edition, celebrating the seventy-fifth anniversary of the city's foundation. In mere size the Courier's jubilee edition is a tremendous enterprise, consisting of 216 pages of closely packed news-matter and advertising. But the size of the publication is of secondary importance when compared to the wealth of historical material which makes up the bulk of its contents. A newspaper man, analyzing the Courier's jubilee number, is at once struck by the enormous labor and painstaking care that has been expended upon it. Months of the hardest sort of research, delving into records and interviewing old inhabitants who played a part in the early history of the community, were obviously required, and the patient skill with which the mass of information so gathered was arranged and put into interesting, readable form, is most noteworthy.

The profuse illustration of the Courier's jubilee number is worthy of special notice. The publishers have spent an obviously tremendous sum upon pictures and cuts, and the finished result is an excellent return on the investment. It abounds particularly in rare photographs of historical value, some of these in particular, recalling vanished aspects of the city and prominent characters of the past, being of almost museum rank in historical value. They have been set out in the paper with the best of effect, obtained by a skillful make-up and excellent mechanical workmanship in print-shop and press room.

The Courier's jubilee edition, indeed, is a shining example of one of the great services which a good newspaper renders to its community. It gathers from every source and preserves for the future the story of its history, which in so many instances is forgotten and neglected until most of it has irretrievably been lost. It provides a reliable source for the historian of the future, and lays the foundation of a civic pride and an honorable tradition which individualizes and inspires community spirit. It is a service which has seldom been as well done as the Courier has done it for Ottumwa, and it is to be hoped that the citizens of Ottumwa realize what a monumental task has been accomplished for their community by its newspaper.

Coal

WHEN we export coal we are robbing prosperity, a railroad president warns. Evidently he is afraid our descendants will not have enough fuel. His fear is groundless. America has sufficient coal, unmined, to last over 1000 years at the rate it is being consumed now. And long before that 1000 years are up, coal will be out of date, fuel being secured by disintegrating atoms, storing sunlight, and so on.

There is never a real shortage of coal. The shortage is in the mine labor and transportation. Solution of the fuel problem eventually will come by burning the coal at the mines to generate current for a country on an electrical basis.

The Fatal Shot

YOU recall Gavrio Prinzep, the boy-assassin whose bullet started the trouble between Austria and Serbia in 1914 and thereby precipitated the World War. Prof. Stanoyevitch of University of Belgrade publishes a pamphlet attributing leadership of the assassination plot to Dragutin Dimitriyevitch, lieutenant colonel and former leader of the Serbian military party. At the last minute he apparently changed his mind and tried to call off the assassination, but the situation had gotten beyond his control. Curiously enough, he had the idea that impending warfare between Austria-Hungary and Serbia could be avoided by killing Archduke Ferdinand. Dimitriyevitch was court-martialed and shot in 1917 in connection with another murder plot. He was about 30 years old when he departed this life.

Prof. Stanoyevitch's pamphlet is historically important, for he had access to "inside information." He seems sincerely convinced that the Serbian government did not know of the assassination plot. Many people will comment: "The war had been brewing for generations, so it cannot be traced to any act of any one individual." However, is that true? The Socialists were close to gaining the whip-hand in Europe when the war rushed them off their feet. And it is, at least, remotely possible that the war might have been avoided if a half-witted radical youth, spurred on by a moron militarist, hadn't loaded his pistol and set off the fireworks. The world is making a terrible mistake if it inclines to attribute the great war to fate—that it was inevitable.

Electric

ONE out of every four tons of coal mined in America is consumed by the railroads.

Obviously, the first logical step to end coal shortages would be to electrify the roads. This would save coal. Also it would release thousands of cars now tied up hauling to points where it is stored until locomotives take it aboard.

On the other hand, the "transportation problem" may be merely the waning of railroads that run on tracks. We may be on the verge of freight and passenger traffic in the air. Stage coach system became inadequate just before steam railroads arrived.

Grandma

A GRANDMOTHER at 81 is Mrs. Frank Wilder of Arlington, Vt. It's probably safe to call her the youngest grandma in America. In the tropics, where people mature in early youth, she would not be exceptional. In our country, she is. Nine-tenths of the women who read about Grandma Wilder will discuss her as the most interesting item in the day's news. News is the exceptional. That's why wrangles in Europe no longer are news. They're the usual, to be expected like the rising of the sun.

ASTROLOGIST WHO PREDICTED NOMINATION OF HARDING ALSO FORETOLD HIS DEATH

BY HARRY B. HUNT

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Fate ran true to prophecy in the life and death of Warren G. Harding.

Probably no more striking instance of the influence of the stars on human affairs, as preached by occultists and astrologists, ever was known than that in which, months before his nomination, Harding was picked as the next president by a Washington astrologist, Madame Marcia, who at the time predicted that he would live out only a little more than half his term.

"The end," she said in making this prediction in February, 1920, "when it comes will be sudden, after an illness of short duration."

I went to see this astrologist with whose former predictions I was familiar, on Tuesday, July 31, when President Harding lay ill in San Francisco. The bulletins from the bedside, at the time I called, announced the patient was improving. He was on the highway to recovery, the attending physicians agreed.

But Madame Marcia, who had spent the morning poring over the horoscope of the ill man, shook her head.

Predicts Harding's Death

"It is the end," she said. "He will never recover. The crisis will come Thursday night. He will be dead by Friday."

In the face of the doctors' bulletins, I smiled at her. But she was immovable, steadfast in her tragic forecast. "He can not recover," she persisted. "He will be dead by Friday." Believers in fate will find in Madame Marcia's readings of what life held for Harding seeming proof to sustain their faith in the governing power of the stars.

Back in February, 1920, four women—all unknown to the astrologist, called on Madame Marcia.

"We want our horoscopes read," they said. "We want to know which of us is to be the next first lady of the land."

The charts were drawn and Madame proceeded to the study of what they foretold. Half way through the reading she pointed to Mrs. Harding and said:

"If any of you ladies are to be the first lady, this is the one."

Some time later the woman who had been selected as the future first lady, whose identity was still unknown to Madame Marcia, called again.

"I want you to read this horoscope," she said, giving a birth date of November 2, 1865, at 8 a. m.

It was marked with the initials, "F. K. H.," given by the still unknown caller.

"I can not figure it out," she said. "This person will be the next president, but I can find no presidential possibility with initials F. K. H. I can not understand it."

"I didn't say these were the initials of the person whose horoscope that is," Mrs. Harding replied. "They are my initials." She then disclosed her identity.

"I have come to you for advice," she continued. "Mr. Harding is under tremendous pressure from the highest party leaders to withdraw as a candidate. What should he do?"

"He must stick," Madame Marcia said. "He will not be nominated until after noon on Saturday of the convention. But he will be nominated."

Blocks Harding's Withdrawal
At 10 minutes of 12 on Saturday, during the convention at Chicago, the nomination seemed deadlocked. Harding sent a note to Mrs. Harding, who was seated in the auditorium with Mrs. Harry C. Woodyard, wife of the congressman from West Virginia.

"Florence, the note read, 'why do you not want me to withdraw when you do not want me to have it?' 'Stay until after 12 o'clock and I'll tell you,' Mrs. Harding wrote back."

On the next ballot the deadlock broke. At 10 minutes after 12 Warren G. Harding had been nominated.

Mrs. Woodyard, who was with Mrs. Harding at the convention, was the woman who first took her to visit Madame Marcia. The other two of the party of four were Mrs. Poinsett and Mrs. Sutherland, both wives of senators who had presidential aspirations. The visit, made in just after a full-filled afternoon at their whitest club, following Harding's nomination, and election became a mighty serious matter to them.

For it raised a new question whether man is or is not after all a thing of destiny, an instrument in the hands of fate, simply playing his part in a role cast for him by the immutable stars.

2,300 VOLTS GRIP HIS BODY
DIXON, Ill.—Nelson Lambert, age 9, suffered only bad burns about the hands and knees Sunday afternoon when 2,300 volts of electricity passed through his body. He had climbed a telephone pole and touched a high tension wire. The high-voltage knocked him from the pole and the telephone wires broke his fall of eighteen feet.

TWO HELD PENDING PROBE INTO DEATH OF IOWA PHYSICIAN

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Two men are held by Milwaukee police pending investigation of a gruesome murder mystery in connection with the finding of the body of Dr. L. G. Eddington, 27, Fairfield, Ia., at 7 a. m. near Goodman, Wis., on pieces by a train which is believed to have passed over his prostrate form at 2:35 a. m. Saturday. It is believed that the young physician was either knocked unconscious, robbed and left on the tracks to perish, or was wheels of a train or was robbed and thrown from another train.

At midnight the physician purchased a ticket for Minneapolis at Tomah, Wis., sixteen miles from the scene of the tragedy. At the time, he had more than $550 in his wallet. When the body was found only $5 in change remained.

EARLE WILLIAMS DOES MANY STUNTS IN "YOU NEVER KNOW"

Earle Williams is required to do about everything in the category of motion picture stunts in "You Never Know," which will be shown at the Majestic theater today and Wednesday. He rescues a child from the wheels of an automobile, climbs the side of a building, drives a fast motor car, makes a sensational escape from an underground cave and chases the villain's yacht in a high speed motor boat. In addition to this he stands off a gang single handed, meets the heavy in close quarters and bests him and then wins the love of the heroine.

"Tenderfoot Luck," with Jimmy Aubrey, furnishes the comedy part of a fine program.

SPURGIN "BROKE" DECLARED READY TO GIVE HIMSELF UP

Fugitive Bank President Negotiating for Chance to Return and Face Trial

CHICAGO.—W. C. Spurgin, fugitive president of the Michigan Avenue Trust company here, who fled to Mexico shortly before a bank examiner closed his institution on July 21, 1921, is reported to be negotiating a chance to return to face justice.

Spurgin, according to advices received at El Paso, Texas, from Mexico, is "broke." His employees are in mourning, according to the reports. He is still surrounded by the ring of desperadoes who, it is said, were his bodyguard when he carried at least $50,000. But now he is virtually their captive.

Spurgin, El Paso reports say, owes these men money, and they watch him jealously. He is afraid they will kill him.

So he has been negotiating to return to Chicago, it is declared.

"BROKEN CHAINS"

It is easy to understand why "Broken Chains," that feature at the Rivoli theater, won the first prize of ten thousand dollars in the scenario contest conducted by Goldwyn Pictures corporation and the Chicago Daily News. This is an all-around fine production, intensely dramatic in theme, well cast and beautifully directed.

Malcolm McGregor has the leading male role, that of a wealthy young easterner. Colleen Moore undoubtedly reaches the high point of her career in her characterization of the part of Mercy Boone, the girl wife of a brutal outlaw ranchman, played by Ernest Terrence. The beautiful Claire Windsor, now under contract with Goldwyn, is a delight in the part of a New York society girl.

CASINO WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY

Jack Hoxie is again the hero of a notable offering, "Two Fisted Jefferson." There are some fine character studies in the picture and Jack Hoxie is himself a study in his work. Evelyn Nelson is as pretty as a picture in the part of the good, bad, little heroine, and the other parts are well sustained by a good cast. The picture will be shown at the Casino theater Wednesday.

POULTRYMEN FORM CO-OP SOCIETY TO MARKET PRODUCT

MADISON, Wis.—Falling in line with Wisconsin tobacco growers, cheese and butter producers, and cherry producers, the poultrymen in Polk, Barron and Burnett counties, have formed a poultry association for marketing co-operatively live poultry and poultry products.

Efforts to organize the association proved fruitful and the first car of live poultry was sent to the Chicago market accompanied by County Agent Klinka of Polk county, who is serving as temporary manager of the new co-operative association. The returns from the poultry will be pro-rated among the shippers, this being the same plan which is followed in livestock shipping co-operatives.

This new addition to the orderly marketing field was brought about through the combined efforts of County Agent J. S. Klinka, Jens Jensen and O. Sorenson, all of Polk county, and E. H. Thompson, county agent in Burnett county.

VACCINATION OF SCHOOL CHILDREN EVENT OF MONTH

Health Department Asks that Parents Take Children to Doctor or Clinic

(BY VIOLA L. NOHR, R. N., Supervisor of Nurses)

With the physical inspection of school children during the past school year, a survey was made to find out how many of the school children had been vaccinated. Out of a group of 958 children in one district there were only 321 pupils who had ever been vaccinated, leaving by far the larger majority, absolutely unprotected against this disease that leaves such dreadful scars for its victims to carry through life.

During the past year there has been a very serious epidemic of small pox in several of the western states with an alarmingly increasing death rate. Colorado, Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma were especially hard hit. While the number of cases was not so large, yet the number of deaths was five times the figure for 1921. In Oklahoma, 85 percent of the cases of small pox were fatal. What is there to prevent the spread of this type of the disease to unprotected communities, such as our own La Crosse?

The beautiful? Persons suffering from small pox in the early stages sometimes travel for long distances on railroad trains. No one can tell when, where, or to what extent this killing form of the disease will make its next appearance. It might just as well be La Crosse as Oklahoma, Oklahoma and if it should come, are we prepared to meet it? Evidently not, if the recent survey of the school children can be taken as an average for the entire city.

Before Dr. Jenner of England announced the discovery of vaccination in 1798, every one felt that he had to pass through an attack of small pox at some period in his life. Indeed in Germany there was an old proverb that expressed the same thought: "From love and small pox but few remain free." But after vaccination became more or less generally instituted over the whole world, the decline in small pox became so marked, that many of us have a false sense of security and have grown exceedingly careless about vaccination.

The health department of La Crosse in connection with the children's clinic of the Community Council, has decided to put on a campaign for vaccination during August. Parents are earnestly requested to take their children to their family physicians for vaccination before school opens. Those desiring vaccination free of charge, may come to the children's clinic in the city hall any Saturday afternoon during August. Children coming to the clinic

ARREST ALLEGED FORGER MANKATO, Minn.—Fred S. Morrison, wanted by Green Bay, Wis., authorities for alleged bogus check deals, is under arrest here on a charge of attempting to pass a $265 check on a local jeweler.

Morrison, according to the police, deposited a $400 check with a local bank, for collection from the Brown County State bank of Green Bay. The check was drawn against the account of Desire Charles of Green Bay, who declared it to be a forgery. Morrison also is alleged to have obtained $50 from the National Citizens' bank of Green Bay on a similar deal.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Blackheads

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this get two ounces of calomel powder from any drug store, sprinkle a little on a hot wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads are a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions that form in the pores of the skin. The calomel powder and the water dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.

AUTO LICENSES FOR 1924 TO BE BLACK AND WHITE

State to Issue Dozen Different Licenses, Due to Weight Tax Law

MADISON, Wis.—Next year's auto license plates will be black and white numerals, according to a decision reached at a conference of officials in the Secretary of State's office.

The special licenses to be issued for cars owned by the state, counties or cities will be red and white numerals. These licenses will be issued for $1 and will not need be renewed for the life of the truck.

There will be about a dozen different kinds of license plates issued next year, each to be sold at a different price, bringing an avalanche of work to the secretary of state's office. Cars will have licenses with a letter of the alphabet on them to designate their weight class which will determine the fee to be charged for them.

Truck licenses to comply with the new law continue to come into the Secretary of State's office in spite of the fact that a test suit has been started in Milwaukee to determine the right of the state to charge another fee after trucks have already been licensed for the year.

SUMMER COTTAGE BURNED WINONA, Minn.—Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the summer cottage of Leo Kemp, Winona, on the banks of the Mississippi river at the foot of Black Bird slough. The cottage was completely furnished, and the loss is estimated at $500. It was partly insured. Mr. Kemp was in the Twin Cities at the time. The destruction of the cottage was first noticed by Frank Fugiga, who happened to be passing in a boat when he noticed the smoldering ruins. A missing lock leads Mr. Kemp to believe that someone had entered the cottage and, intentionally or accidentally, set fire to it.

Jelly Making
Be sure that the sugar you use for canning preserving and jelly making is pure cane sugar. Beet sugar will not make good jelly.

Clear sparkling jelly is the result of quick work in boiling the fruit juice and great care in extracting the juice. The first juice which comes through the jelly bag will make the clearest jelly.

It is better not to try to make too much jelly at one time. The wider the bottle the better because quick evaporation means a light colored jelly. Heat the sugar before adding it to the juice. This does not cool the juice or retard boiling as much as if cold sugar were used. The sugar is heated in the oven after measuring.

Apple Jelly
Astrakan apples can be used for jelly if practically ripe. The jelly will not be as light colored. Other varieties are used for jelly when quite green.

Wash and quarter apples. Remove any bad spots and defective cores. Put in preserving kettle with just enough water to prevent burning. Cook rapidly to a pulp. Put into jelly bag and let drain over night.

Measure juice. Put juice in clean preserving kettle and boil rapidly. Skim as much as possible and add warmed sugar slowly. Do not let boiling stop while adding sugar. Boil rapidly until a teaspoonful of juice tried on a cold plate forms jelly.

Pour into sterilized glasses and cover with paraffin when cold. Astrakan apples will "jelly" if three-fourths cup of sugar is used for every cup of juice. Most other varieties, containing less pectin, require measure for measure of sugar and juice.

Old-time jelly makers put a rose geranium leaf in the bottom of part of the jelly glasses. The boiling syrup extracted enough of the real fragrance to delicately flavor the jelly. Aunt was often used in the same fashion except that the sprig was removed from the glass before the jelly hardened.

Grape Jelly
Grape jelly should be made before the grapes ripen.

Strip grapes from stems and wash. Put in preserving kettle with a very little water, just enough to prevent burning. Bring to the boiling point and boil rapidly until the skins burst open. Put in jelly bag and let drain over night. It grapes are cooked early in the morning five or six hours will extract the juice, and jelly can be made the same day.

Do not squeeze the jelly bag as this makes the juice cloudy and the

GIRL RESERVE CONFERENCE A BIG SUCCESS

La Crosse Girls Back From Millhurst; Others Gone To Geneva

Miss Emily Turck, Miss Ella Lee and Miss Elvina Roubik have just returned from the Girl Reserve conference which they have been attending at Millhurst, Ill. Miss Turck reports that the conference was most successful. Miss Mildred Roe, chief executive of the Girl Reserves, came from New York, and she with the field secretary for industrial conferences, led the meetings.

Millhurst proved to be a most interesting place with quite a history. Years ago the old mill was built but when it was completed the railroad changed its course and the building was useless as a mill. For a long time various parties from Chicago would rent the mill and have house parties there. Then it became quite a famous gambling den. The Chicago Y. W. C. A. discovered that the mill was a desirable place for a summer camp so the "Y" now owns it.

Millhurst is now the Y. W. C. A. camp of Chicago and from June until September there are 125 girls living there.

On the return from the conference

Miss Turck chaperoned eleven of the girls for a day in Chicago. Monday night four of the older La Crosse Y. W. C. A. girls, two from the industrial groups, Miss Nina Spangard and Miss Leah Garrett of the Stone Garment and the Pearl Button Works groups, and Miss Doris Kuthary and Miss Dorothy Woods of the gymnasium group of the "Y" left for College Camp, Lake Geneva. The girls will spend ten days at the conference at Geneva.

Following are the men named: Former Governors Emanuel L. Phillips and Francis E. McGovern, Milwaukee; Edward Scheffold, Oconto; and William H. Upham, Marshfield; William H. Hutton, New London; William H. Armstrong, Racine; E. H. Kronshage, Milwaukee; A. M. Branton, Madison; John T. Murphy, Superior; Dan W. Grady, Portage; C. E. Broughton, Sheboygan; and Alfred T. Rogers, Madison.

The governor also announced the appointment of Colonel William C. Brander, Milwaukee, as a representative of the executive to attend the final obsequies of the late President Harding at Marion on Friday, August 10.

NATION'S CAPITAL AWAITS FUNERAL SPECIAL BEARING BODY OF DEAD CHIEFTAIN

its position, ready to share in the sorrow as it has so often through the years led the joy of the nation.

Through the solemnity no pains had been spared that each man and animal might to honor to the dead in his appearance. Blooded mounts of officers and many troop horses and gun teams were groomed today until they shone. The men themselves are to dress in olive drab with tan blouses caps low over their eyes and chin straps framing their tanned young faces.

Crepe on Officers' Swords

At each officer's sword hilt rested a cluster of crepe that will stay there a month in token of the nation's loss. The colors will bear long streamers of black.

Within the station President Coolidge and the cabinet members had been reserved a place to greet the train out in the long shed. The great concourse, with its high glass roof was to be swept clear of all but the official group, and those immediately connected with the sorrowful functions.

The funeral program called for no ceremonies or greetings at the train except those, except for the strains of the band and the salute of the troops outside. There was to be just the slow walk behind the casket down the silent concourse and out through the president's room to the waiting gun carriage. Arrangements had been made to spare Mrs. Harding even this and a closed car is to hurry her by a different route to the White House in order that she might be there when the casket is lifted down and carried to its first night of quiet since it started from San Francisco.

Two troops of cavalry were ordered to lead the way from the station, starting off at a quick trot for the swift journey to the capital grounds, then down toward the peace monument to Pennsylvania avenue and then on to the treasury and finally through the shaded grounds of the executive mansion.

Gun Carriage to Bear Casket

The funeral caisson drawn by four black horses, was allotted the front place in line, close on the heels of the troopers. Then the long string of motor cars bearing President Harding's travel party to the sad conclusion of their journey was to follow; then other cars bearing President Coolidge and the official folk of Washington. Behind these were to be arrayed the third troop of cavalry and rumbling guns of the artillery to bring up the rear of the escort.

At the White House, orders to the troopers directed that they swing aside to line up along the broad avenue and sit silent with sabres at "present," when the caisson passes and, followed by the motor cars, turns in through the gates to stop before the wide door of the mansion. Nor until the casket vanishes through that door will the steel flash down to be sheathed and the troopers ride away to prepare for the greater ceremony Wednesday.

The official party was to break up at the White House. Those who made the fateful journey with President Harding were expected to go to their homes only to reassemble at the train Wednesday evening and be with him to the last, when the casket is lowered to its final resting place in the quiet cemetery at Marion. For tonight it will lie at the White House untroubled by the pomp and circumstance of the nation's weal and with only the sorrowing widow and close friends to watch through the long hours until the nation again claims its great dead.

MOTHER OF FATHER SALMONE DIES AT AN ADVANCED AGE

Mrs. Laffy Salmone, Native of Egypt, Dies at Home of Her Son

MRS. Laffy Salmone, mother of Rev. Philip Salmone, died at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at the family residence, 1904 Caladonia street. Mrs. Salmone was in her seventy-fourth year.

Mrs. Salmone had been in poor health for several years, and her strength had gradually failed. Death was caused by the increasing infirmities of her advanced years, after a few days' illness. She died peacefully and without suffering, surrounded by the members of her family.

Born in Egypt

Mrs. Salmone was born in Alexandria, Egypt, November 14, 1850. She was married in 1868 to Nicholas Salmone, and became the mother of five children, of whom three are living. Her children were all small when her husband died, and she devoted her life to her family, struggling with the difficulties of Oriental conditions to give them modern education in Near East and European schools and universities. She was widely travelled in her later years, having spent some time in Europe, Brazil, the Holy Land and Mexico before making her home in the United States.

Dr. Salmone came to La Crosse in 1905, as pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes church, and four years later his mother followed him from Alexandria, establishing the north side home. She has remained here since, although the climate proved unsuitable and she suffered frequently from illness on that account.

Family Lives Here

Mrs. Salmone is survived by two sons and a daughter, Dr. Salmone, Salmone Salmone, and Mrs. George Serogy, all of this city. A sister, Miss Selma Munyer, is also a resident of La Crosse, and a brother makes his home in Brazil.

Evening prayers will be said Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the residence, 1904 Caladonia street, and funeral services will be held Wednesday morning in St. James church. Rev. Ambrose Murphy, conducting requiem high mass at 9 o'clock. Burial will take place in the Catholic cemetery. The family requests that flowers be not sent, in accordance with a wish expressed by their mother.

EIGHT MORE CASES IN POLICE COURT MONDAY, TUESDAY

Eight more cases were heard in police court Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning involving speeders and intoxication. Silas Hanson, Gary Mills, who deposited $52.50 for his release after a charge of driving while drunk, had the money forfeited.

Monday afternoon Robert Cleveland paid $7.50 for intoxication, and L. Lee and Anton Waldron were fined $12.50 each for speeding.

Tuesday morning Bert Nye, Nick Allen and William O'Brien paid $7.50 for intoxication. J. E. Williams charged a plea of not guilty to a charge of speeding, the case being adjourned until Wednesday. Clarence Bartz pleaded not guilty to a charge of reckless driving. The case was adjourned until August 14.

VERDUN FORGETS ITS SORROWS TO MOURN DEATH OF HARDING

VERDUN—(By the Associated Press.) "The sorrow that comes to your people is sorrow for Verdun, which is grateful to all those who pity her." The municipality of Verdun Monday telegraphed Ambassador Herlick in expressing its condolence over the death of President Harding.

"The ruined city," adds the telegram, "has not forgotten the precious encouragement that came from your country. She is proud of the honor of receiving the gold medal award by congress and the people of the United States which you came here last year to present for President Harding."

The authorities put at half mast the American flag that flew over the city jail in 1918.

Fertilizers From Many Countries

Owing to the gradual supercedence of the horse by the motor vehicle, substitutes for stable fertilizer must be sought. Nitrates from Chile, bone-meal and tankage from South America, sheep manure and wood ashes from Canada, phosphate rock from Florida and Tennessee, potash from Germany—these are the fertilizers of the near future, these and the crops that have to be plowed down to make the humus.

G. H. WILMARTH IS MANAGER OF WIS.-MINNESOTA COMPANY

New Official Takes Over Duties as Head of Big Corporation at Eau Claire

R. F. Pack, vice president and general manager of the Northern States Power company has announced the appointment of George H. Wilmarth as manager of the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power company with headquarters at Eau Claire, Wis. The Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power company was recently made part of the Northern States Power System.

George H. Wilmarth has been connected with the public utility industry since 1899, when he received his degree in electrical engineering at the University of Illinois. His broad and varied experience since that time, ranging from construction activities in the telephone and traction fields to the management of electric and gas companies, has fitted him for the larger responsibilities he now assumes.

Mr. Wilmarth's affiliation with the Bylesby organization began as general superintendent of the Red River Power company at Grand Forks, N. D., now part of the Northern States Power System. He served in that capacity from 1910 to 1912, and then was transferred to Sapulpa, Oklahoma, as manager. In 1918 he became manager of the Muskogee division of Oklahoma Gas and Electric company, from which position he has resigned to become manager of the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power company.

Marion Plans Mausoleum

MARION, O.—(By the Associated Press.)—President Harding will not be buried beside his mother and sister in the Marion cemetery. His body, after the funeral services here Friday will be placed in the receiving vault at the cemetery and held there pending the erection of a mausoleum to receive it.

In order that Mr. Harding's home-folk and friends of his native state may have the privilege of a last look at their departed friend, Mrs. Harding's plans call for the body to lie in state at the home of his father from soon after its arrival Thursday morning till nine or ten o'clock that night and again for a few hours Friday forenoon. She would not approve tentative plans for the body to lie in state at the Marion county courthouse.

The funeral service at the Harding home will be conducted at 3 p. m. Friday. Complete details of the funeral plans, typewritten and approved by Mrs. Harding will be placed in the hands of Attorney Hoke Donlithen, chairman of the general committee on funeral arrangements, by Dr. Carl W. Sawyer.

Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, Mrs. Harding's personal physician, said that he found Mrs. Harding in much better physical condition than he had expected and expressed the belief that she would be able to bear up under the grief and strain.

Admit Marion Folk to Train

Out of consideration for the people of the president's home, friends from Marion and other cities who had gathered in Willard to see the funeral train pass, were extended the first privilege of passing the coffin. They filed through the funeral car while trainmen were preparing the equipment for the next run.

Secretary Christian announced that no more floral tributes could be received from friends of the president's home state as the train now was already overloaded with such silent tokens of esteem.

Even the plans approved by Mrs. Harding are contingent upon the condition of the body on its arrival from Washington. The coffin, it is said, had not been opened during the trip across the continent and would not be until it reached Washington.

The choir of Trinity Baptist church will sing the president's favorite hymns at the service.

Simplicity Marks Plans

The body will be borne in a hearse from the funeral train to the Harding home and from the home to the cemetery. No casket will be used in accordance with Mrs. Harding's desire that all military showing be held to the minimum.

The simple funeral was said to have been the late president's wish and this desire will be carried out as nearly as is humanly possible to do so.

Mrs. Harding, too, it was said, feels that after the state funeral ceremonies in Washington the nation has relinquished all claim to him and that he once again is her husband, giving her the privilege to carry out his and her wish.

The route to the cemetery will be west in Center street to State, to Delaware, to the cemetery. Mrs. Harding vetoed tentative plans to have the funeral cortege pass down Main street.

MORE COMMITTEE MEETINGS CALLED

Committees on audit and purchase and a special zoning committee of north side aldermen will meet at 8 o'clock Wednesday to consider all matters in the hands of the committee. Public utilities and administration committees will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock to consider all matters.

PREDICTS AIR LINES COVERING GREATER PART OF THE WORLD

British Officer Sees Day When Empire Will be Linked Up With all Other Nations

LONDON.—A most interesting and instructive paper was read before the International Air Congress, recently in session in London, by Brigadier-General F. H. Williamson, director of postal services of the British government.

General Williamson predicted that the United States, Canada, the West Indies and other parts of the North American continent would soon be linked up by air with Great Britain. Connecting air lines would also run to Egypt, India, The Straits Settlements, Australia, New Zealand, and Africa. "It is not rash to predict," said he, "that the next generation will see its railways and its steamships supplemented by a complete system of communication by air."

General Williamson said the Cairo-Bagdad air mail service, now in operation, saved 20 days over the old land route which ran via Bombay, Karachi and the Persian Gulf. The mail planes covered the 560 miles in a single day.

Discussing the future of mail transportation by air, the speaker said that the conveyance of the whole of the mails by air was an unlikely development unless and until there is a very marked change in the cost of air transport, and in the financial limitations under which postal services are compelled to work, limitations which require some sort of proportion between the postage charged and the cost of transport.

"Moreover," the general added, "an essential condition of mail service is regularity under all conditions, in all weathers, and at all times of the year. It is commonly assumed that if a method of transporting mails can be devised which is considerably more rapid, even if more expensive, than anything already in existence, there is an immediate public demand that it be used for the carriage of mails. There is, of course, some truth in this; but the experience of the post office indicates that the importance attached to the more speed of mail communication can easily be exaggerated."

"It is probable, therefore, that for a long time to come air mails must be limited to urgent correspondence on which a special fee is charged, and that such correspondence will only be a relatively small fraction of the total mail. The actual volume of air mail, carried will depend on three factors, regularly, gain in time, and cost of conveyance; that is, exactly the same conditions as those on which the development of passenger and goods traffic will depend, and to which the technical development of commercial aviation must be directed."

SHOOT'S NEIGHBOR MAN HUNT ON FOR COUDERAY FARMER

COUDERAY, Wis.—Posses were scouring the countryside about this Sawyer county community Tuesday for William McCann, 50, who shot and killed Frank Allen, 46, on the road between Couderay and Lenington. The slaying was witnessed by a married woman with whom Allen was riding in an automobile. McCann, in a jealous rage at seeing the pair, shot Allen through the heart with a rifle. McCann and Allen had farms near Couderay.

McCann is said to have served five years in Waupun some years ago for shooting a man near New Auburn, Wis. McCann is believed headed for the farm of his brother, Thomas McCann, near Sheldon, Wis.

The region in which McCann is being sought is not far from Cameron dam where John Dietz resisted the officers of Sawyer county in the fall of 1910.

BATS INSTEAD OF FLY SWATTERS

Employment of bats to rid our homes of flies, mosquitoes and other insects, is being experimented upon by scientists. Bats have already been successfully used in San Antonio, Tex. and some Florida cities to fight the malaria mosquito. Experiments have been made in homes and laboratories but two difficulties have been encountered. In the first place, they have not yet found an adequate way to keep the bats alive in captivity. They feed only while on the wing, and unless supplied with large numbers of insects do not get enough food when kept in a laboratory. Secondly, since the bat is little more than a winged mouse, women feel somewhat timid about having such a policeman around the house.

The real importance of the research lies in the discovery of the value of bats as destroyers of insects that damage crops on farms and as annihilators of mosquitoes.

Traveling Theatre in Rural England

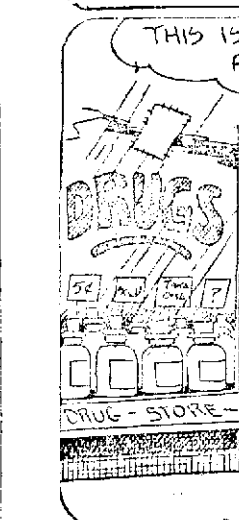

The Arts League of Service Traveling Theatre has given more than 5000 performances in the villages of England and Scotland this spring and summer.

The company consists of ten performers, who have carried about the country in a big gray van a fit-up theatre.

Good playlets are given and are well acted, but the characteristic part of the entertainment is that which consists of miscellaneous items. There are Gaelic songs, sea chanteys and recitations in character.

The whole show shows what a great deal can be done by clever people with the very simplest of accessories.

BADGERS FLY ACROSS LAKE MICHIGAN IN LESS THAN AN HOUR

Traverse Great Inland Sea at its Widest Point, Flying in Land Plane

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Two sterner, R. G. Conant, Westfield, Wis., and Montford Wausbauer, Milwaukee, in a land plane, crossed Lake Michigan at its widest point Tuesday morning, landing at Holland, Mich., in 57 minutes. The flyers were enveloped in a fog throughout the trip.

This is the first time an airplane has crossed the lake. Hydroplanes have cruised half the distance at great altitudes but no land plane ever before essayed a long trip over the waters of the lake.

The pilots were flying under the banner of the Milwaukee Journal. Appreciation was felt for a time for the safety of the pilots but late in the forenoon a telegram told of their safe arrival.

Perfumes in Religious Ceremonies

A treatise on perfumes has been found written by a Greek scientist more than 300 B. C. Perfumes first were used only in religious service and were consecrated to this use. The world has come a long way from the time when any other use was considered a sacrilege. The industry is a very old one. The caravan which brought Joseph as a captive late Egypt was engaged in carrying perfumes from Persia.

Quarries of the Caesars

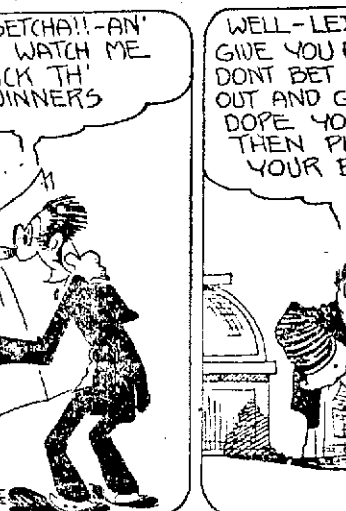

The Carrara quarries in the Apuan Alps are the largest and nearly the oldest in the world. It is not known how far down into the earth these everlasting hills of marble extend, but they rise at points to a height of 5,000 feet above sea level and cover an area of some 400 square miles. After 2000 years of hacking, blasting and sawing man has apparently left little impression upon them.

Even a stubborn growth of hair will quickly vanish from the face, neck or arms after a single treatment with delatone. To remove hair from arms, neck or face make a stiff paste with a little powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface and after about two minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be left free from hair or blemish. To avoid disappointment, be quite certain you get real delatone and mix fresh as wanted.

COOLIDGE TURNS TO CONSIDERATION OF FARM PROBLEM

Discusses Harding Plans With
Director of War Finance Corporation

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The question of federal aid to the farmer was a problem to which President Coolidge turned his attention Monday in formulating policies of his administration.

Fred Starck, director of the war finance corporation, which has many millions of dollars of agricultural credit outstanding, conferred with the president and gave him an outline of the steps Mr. Harding had in mind. Mr. Starck had been for years an intimate friend of the late president and had been attached to the Harding headquarters at Marion in a confidential capacity.

Mr. Starck explained that President Harding had begun to evolve a new scheme of rural credits a few months ago, designed to solve some of the most vexatious problems which from time to time confront and confound agriculture and its affiliated interests, as well as the government. Mr. Harding had intended to give further thought to the project upon his return to Washington.

The world could be twice as bad as it is. The seasons in Mars are twice as long as ours.

CHINESE PLANTS FOR FARMS AND GARDENS

From the mountains of Yunnan in southwestern China many packages of seeds and cuttings have been received by the department of agriculture, sent by Joseph F. Rock, agricultural explorer for the bureau of plant industry of the United States. Though tropical in latitude, the mountains of Yunnan rise to such heights that they present many large areas whose climatic conditions are not unlike those of the eastern and southeastern United States.

Among the most interesting things found are numerous wild relatives of such cultivated fruits as the apple, the peach and the pear. Plant breeders in the United States are likely to find these of great value, and some of them may be suitable for use by nurserymen as stock plants on which to graft horticultural varieties of the same fruits. A large number of wild roses has also been secured, some of them promising for cultivation in North American gardens; others of value to breeders. Many species of wild chestnuts, some of which may prove of great value in this country, have been sent to Washington and are now being propagated at the various plant introduction field stations of the department.

CYLINDER GRINDING
When a motor has lost its power, lacks compression, pumps oil, fouls its plugs, develops a knock or piston slap and consumes oil and gasoline out of proportion to the service rendered, it is a good idea to have the cylinders ground and fitted with over-sized pistons and rings. These conditions are caused by cylinders which have become worn and rough and which will not run smoothly. The cylinders must be re-ground.

THOUSANDS GREET FUNERAL TRAIN AT CHICAGO MONDAY

PACE THROUGH THE TOWN

Tracks Blocked With Throngs
Packing Right of Way

CHICAGO — While church bells tolled, sirens blew, and hundreds of thousands of persons jammed the network of railroad tracks, the funeral train bearing the body of Warren G. Harding crept through Chicago Monday night at a speed no faster than a man can walk.

A faster speed would have been impossible, for the Northwestern tracks from Oak Park to Rockwell street and the Rockwell tracks south to 50th street and beyond were literally packed with people.

Escorted above by five airplanes which had arisen at Checkerboard field, in Maywood, with great long mourning streamers flying in their wake, the train crossed the city limits at 6:30 o'clock, more than two hours behind the time scheduled for its arrival.

Surge on to Tracks

As it neared the Kedzie avenue station, where the city council committee was waiting, a railroad detective, flag in hand, was forced to walk ahead of the locomotive and warn back the crowds which had surged on to the tracks despite the efforts of more than 200 uniformed policemen, railroad guards, and federal secret service men. A stop of only three minutes was made while the committee, carrying the huge wreath bearing the inscription, "Chicago's Sympathy," hurriedly boarded the train. Other floral tributes were handed swiftly to those in the baggage car, and a Western Union official delivered more than 200 messages of condolence for Mrs. Harding.

Then at 6:57 the train was on its creeping way again.

100,000 at Kedzie

It was estimated that more than 100,000 persons had gathered in the vicinity of the Kedzie avenue station and as the train moved out again hundreds broke through the police cordons and surged after the train down the track, attempting to obtain a view of the flag draped casket in the rear car.

As freight sirens took up the dirge and there came the thunderous echoes of twenty-one gun salutes being fired by the 122d and 124th field artillery of the Illinois National guard, the train turned on to the Rockwell tracks at Rockwell street, where it turned southward through solid lines of mourning, ten and twenty deep to the Wood station at 22nd street. There the Chicago official party left the train and it pulled slowly through the yards on the south side, out to 50th street, east to the Baltimore and Ohio tracks, and on its way to Gary and other Indiana towns, where other thousands had been waiting since early in the afternoon.

Can't Make Up Time

All attempts of rail officials to make up the hour lost in the west were given up when the train reached Geneva. From there on to Chicago the tracks were banked with mourning. Every station was jammed with people, every crossroad was blocked by automobiles whose occupants had stood for hours in the broiling sun to pay their last respects to the nation's first citizen.

It is said to have been at Mrs. Harding's request that the train proceeded slowly through villages and towns in order that those who had been waiting for hours might be rewarded with something more than a fleeting, flashing view of the train.

Airplanes had met the train shortly after it had crossed the Mississippi river into Illinois and at Sterling, Dixon, Rockford, Peoria, and Geneva. They showered flowers on the tracks and upon the slowly moving coaches.

JANESVILLE FAIR CLOSES
FOR HARDING FUNERAL

JANESVILLE, Wis. — Cares will be closed and all operations will cease at the Janesville fair and livestock exposition here next Friday in observance of the day of mourning for President Harding. It was announced by the board of directors Tuesday. The fair will be advanced one day and re-open again on Saturday, August 11. A memorial meeting will be held at the hour of the funeral.

PLANS FOR HARDING FUNERAL AT WASHINGTON AND MARION ARE ANNOUNCED ON TUESDAY

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Washington is in readiness to receive the body of the nation's late president, Warren G. Harding.

Preparations for the impressive state ceremonies which will mark the country's sorrow and respect for the departed chief executive have been completed, subject to any changes Mrs. Harding may desire.

At the same time definite arrangements for the funeral services at Marion were announced by President Coolidge, through Col. Sherrill, White House military aide, who issued this formal statement:

"The funeral train arriving in Washington at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday, August 7, will return to Marion, O., over the Pennsylvania lines, leaving Washington at 6 o'clock p. m. Wednesday. President Harding's body will then lie in state in Marion from the time of arrival until Friday afternoon, when the funeral services will take place at 3 o'clock p. m.

Simple Obsequies Planned

"The services in Marion will be extremely simple in accordance with Mrs. Harding's wishes, no military, fraternal, or other organized demonstration being made. The services there will be as appropriate for a prominent citizen of the town of Marion, O."

A rumbling army column will transport the body from the Marion station to the White House, while an escort of between 3,000 and 4,000 soldiers, sailors and marines will march to muffled drums.

The casket will be placed in the famous east room of the executive mansion, the scene of many gay festivities in happier days, there to remain until Wednesday morning, when it will be taken to the capitol. Ten thousand school children will carry historic Pennsylvania avenue with flowers along the entire route to be traveled by the caravan of sorrow.

Furniture Strung With Crepe

The desk from which President Harding directed the destinies of the United States for more than two years was sealed, a black band being stretched over the broad mahogany top, and around the drawers. His chair was draped in mourning, and a black bow tied at the top. The cabinet chair at the head of the table was draped similarly.

At the capitol, beneath the great crystal chandeliers, where he signed important laws and resolutions passed by congress in the last minutes of his sessions, his table and chair have been draped and will so remain for one month.

Mourning stationery to be used in announcing officially the funeral of the late president was rushed to Washington from Springfield, Mass., by airplane. The cards are being engraved by the bureau of engraving and printing.

To Rest on Historic Stand

The black draped catafalque, on which rested the caskets of Presidents Lincoln, Garfield, and McKinley and that of the Unknown Soldier has been taken from the vault in the base of the capitol and on Wednesday morning will be placed beneath the dome to receive the casket of Mr. Harding.

Former President Woodrow Wilson, who, like President Harding, was stricken on a western tour and who suffered the same cause of his illness, notified President Coolidge that he would "esteem it an honor to take part in the funeral procession," but said regretfully "my lameness makes it impracticable for me to attend the exercises in the capitol."

The special train bearing the President and officials representing the legislative, executive and judicial branches of the government will leave Washington at 10 o'clock p. m. on Thursday over the Baltimore and Ohio lines, arriving at Marion at 12 o'clock noon on Friday.

Coolidge to Return Quickly

After attending the funeral the President with his party will return to Washington, leaving Marion at 10 o'clock arriving at Washington at 10:30 a. m.

The formal announcement of the plans for funeral services in Washington was issued by Col. Sherrill as follows:

"The late President's body will arrive in Washington at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday on the special train over the B. and O. lines, containing the party with which the President was traveling en route to the west and to Alaska."

"President Coolidge, military aide, members of the cabinet, the chief justice of the Supreme court, the President pro tempore of the senate, will meet the train and with the speaker of the house of representatives will accompany the body at once to the White House."

Military Escort Named

"The military escort for this occasion will be the following: The Second squadron of the Third cavalry and one battery of the Sixth field artillery with caisson, under command of Maj. J. M. Wright."

"The body will rest in the east room of the White House from time of arrival until 10 o'clock a. m. on Wednesday."

On the special train besides Mrs. Harding there will be the speaker of the house of representatives, the secretary to the President and Mrs. Childer, Gen. and Mrs. Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Jennings, Capt. Adolphus Andrews, U. S. navy; Maj. O. M. Baldinger, U. S. army; Lieutenant Commander J. T. Boone, U. S. navy; Mr. J. C. Welliver, Mr. and Mrs. Remberg, and the two Misses Remberg. Mrs. Briggs, Miss Powderly, nurse; Miss Wynne, maid; three secret service men, and fourteen newspaper men, body guard of eighteen, consisting of two officers and sixteen enlisted men.

"On the arrival of the funeral train, Mrs. Harding and such of her party as she may designate will go at once to the White House quietly and separately from the funeral procession."

"Mrs. Coolidge and the wives of the members of the cabinet will be at the White House when Mrs. Harding arrives there."

Gov. Davis Ill; NOT ALARMING.
PHYSICIAN SAYS

TOPEKA, Kas. — By The Associated Press — The condition of Gov. Jonathan M. Davis, who is ill with influenza, was reported Monday by Dr. L. M. Powell, his physician, as being satisfactory. The governor's temperature, which fell from 104 to 102 late Sunday, climbed back to 103 plus during the night. The doctor said there is "nothing alarming" in his condition.

"The thing we must fight," Dr. Powell said, "is the possibility of his contracting pneumonia. However, blood counts, and careful lung examinations made in consultation with Dr. C. A. McGuire show no trace of this disease."
